

Announcement

Baarn, 18th of August 2014

The ENMC is an international organization supporting research for neuromuscular disorders and strives to facilitate collaboration and communication among scientists and clinicians, working in the area of neuromuscular disorders, and persons directly involved with a neuromuscular disorder. The main route whereby ENMC brings these parties together is via the funding and organisation of workshops covering a range of neuromuscular disease topics.

In order to increase the involvement and participation of young researchers and clinicians, the ENMC is happy to announce the introduction of the

ENMC Young Scientists Program

With this program, ENMC provides young researchers, clinicians and/or health care professionals the opportunity to participate in an ENMC workshop related to their field of expertise.

The program aims to support the participants in obtaining state-of-the-art scientific information, expanding their network and thereby promoting the concept of the ENMC workshops as a unique platform for international and interdisciplinary collaboration.

At each future ENMC workshop, there will be one place reserved for applicants from this program.

For the eligibility criteria and the application form, please contact the ENMC office at enmc@enmc.org (phone +31 35 5480481) or visit the ENMC website at www.enmc.org

This program is made possible thanks to financial support from Genzyme Europe BV.
